Ardmore, I. T., April 7.—In the Sulphur election case United States Judge Townsend yesterday heard preliminary arguments involving the question of irregular mode in voting. In the first ward of Sulphur the residents voted for all candidates and the question was raised whether this could legally be done. It was alleged that the voters of the first ward changed the result of the other wards.

Judge Townsend held that he had no jurisdiction to interfere with the judges declaring the result of the election.

Final action is positively demanded on proposition of Oklahoma Central by morning of Tuesday, April 10, and a mass meeting is hereby called for that purpose Monday night, April 9th, at 8 o'clock, court house. This is of vital importance to Ada and the situation must be met.

STATEHOOD CONFERENCE ACTS WITH DELIBERATION

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the statehood bill are proceeding with the deliberation of men who are sensible that the time for action has not arrived. They have been meeting thrice a week, discussing the minor senate amendments cursorily and agreeing to some of them tentatively, while leaving the Foraker and Burrows amendments, which are the crux of the controversy, unconsidered. The conferees met again Friday and went through the same performance in a perfunctory way. Nothing has been done as to the court towns, that is, no agreement has been reached as to what towns shall be eliminated.

About the nearest approach to an agreement on any amendment of importance is that it has been virtually decided that the Warren amendment, which seeks to validate the titles of those who have claims to mineral lands in Oklahoma, shall go out. The committee will perhaps not meet again until the latter part of next week, as Mr. Beveridge, who is at the head of the Senate conferees has gone to Indiana on a political mission.

The more complaisant mood of the house is believed to have resulted from the canvass that is being made in the senate as to the advisability of attaching the amended statehood bill to some one of the appropriation bills, preferably the sundry civil measure. If this should be done, and it is generally admitted it can be, there would be no way to deny the house an opportunity to vote on the naked proposition of admitting Oklahoma and Indian territory. The result of such a vote as that would be an overwhelming defeat for the Speaker, hence his increasing inclination to compromise, even if he has to accept the second Foraker amendment.

The hope of the friends of these two territories waxes. Some of them, in fact, are now confident that this congress will not adjourn without adding Oklahoma to the sisterhood of States. And this, it may be added, is the belief of some of the shrewdest observers in congress.

VARIEGATED ADVENTURES FOR THE U. S. OFFICERS

Friday and Friday night were busy times for the U. S. Marshal's force. In the afternoon Office Deputy Brents and Constable Morris made a reconnoitering expedition out on the grading line of the Oklahoma Central. From Stebbins camp they brought back three negroes, thirty gallons of Choctaw beer and three six-shooters—that is the negroes and pistols were brought in. Two are held on weapon charges and one for a liquor offense. Upon the arrival of the officers promiscuous was the throwing away of guns. One negro had a neat little Choctaw club house or canteen in operation in a tent and the odor of the nondescript beverage was insistent.

Also up on the M. K. & T. the officers, after searching most of the night, bagged one Pruitt on a charge of dealing in alcohol. But Deputy John Chapman had the romantic trip of the day. It seems the last grand jury indicted Mrs. Fay Chambers, accusing her of maintaining a nuisance in the form of a house of prostitution down on east Main. The officers had not located her until yesterday when they learned she had gone to Stonewall. So last night Chapman procured a hand car and thither pumped his way. He easily found the woman wanted and she cheerfully agreed to return with the officers on the rude rolling stock. Accordingly they pumped back to Ada in the night and the fair prisoner now languishes in the bastille in lieu of giving a $500 bond.

Rev. W. J. Eakins of Italy, Texas, will preach at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning and evening. A special invitation is extended to all, and especially members of the congregation, to attend both these services.

AN URGENT SIDEWALK SUGGESTION.

The recent spell of mud naturally made one reflect on the blessings of sidewalks. In compliance with the city ordinance enacted last fall our property owners of pride and public spirit, almost to a man, constructed good, substantial walks along property on the leading streets affected. And the convenience and comfort of these improvements are invaluable during rainy days. But there are a few property owners whose attention certainly never was called to the new law. Why, there remains even at this late day a stretch of mud walk leading from the chief business corner of the town to another important business block, a walk composing part of the main pedestrian thoroughfare leading to the residence district.

Think of it! This conspicuous piece of civic dereliction right in the heart of a city boasting of four railroads, the city sanely ambitious of soon being the railroad center of the Southwest! Why at this stage of our metropolitan aspirations and prospects the News feels humiliated to have to agitate the building of little sidewalks; before many months this town is expected to reach the status that will demand such big things as the paving of Main street. Sidewalks are village necessities. Let us not grow up to the proportions of a real city without even the adjunct conveniences and embellishments of a village status.

That sidewalk should by all means be built before another rain, and there are a few others which need building nearly as badly. The News does not wish to revert to these little matters again.

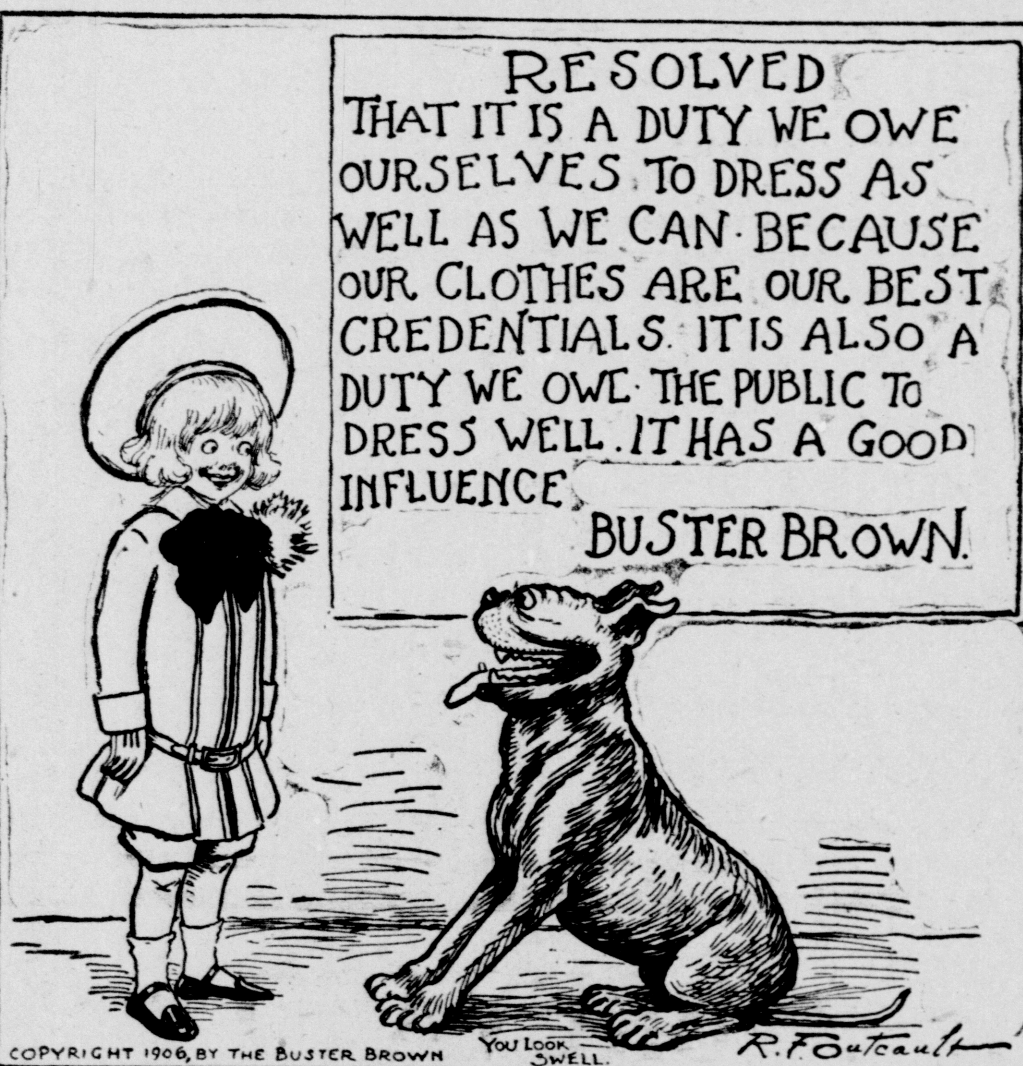

The unusual amount of advertising in this number of the News has precluded the publication of some good items of local news.

Not only does dressing well make you feel good, but it pays. When you see a man wearing a coat that sags and trousers that just reach his shoe tops--cut short because they have been worn out at the bottom--you put him down for a dub. You would not give him a job, nor recommend him for a position. If you had him hired would you raise his salary? The prosperous man is always well dressed; dress well and you will prosper. If you are feeling purse-proud come in and try one of our swell, tony suits. Price $16.50. If the pocket-book is lean, we can make you look good for $12.50. Tasty, durable suits anywhere between $9.50 and $22.50. And now that April is here, perhaps you wish some shirts and lighter underwear. Its about time to change. We shall help you. Try taking a look in our show windows, too, for bright, proper neckties, ties you'll want so badly your tongue will hang out. Respectfully,

Alienation Clause Knocked Out.

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the Five Tribes bill have agreed on another report in lieu of that one which was virtually rejected by the Senate early this week. Most of the provisions to which the Senate objected have been eliminated or modified, and there has been no attempt to legislate in conference. For these reasons, it is believed, the report will be accepted by both houses.

The proposition in which there is perhaps the most widespread interest is that respecting the disposition of the mineral lands. On this the House conferees agreed to the Senate amendment, which forbids both the sale and the lease of the unleased mineral lands "until such time as may be otherwise provided."

As to the restrictions on allotments the conferees agreed to strike out that part of the Senate amendment removing at once the restrictions on the surplus lands of mixed bloods, and to keep in the bill this provision: "That nothing in this act contained shall be construed or held to authorize the leasing of such lands for oil, gas or other mineral without the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, and no such lease shall have any validity until so approved; that no full-blood Indian of any of said tribes shall have power to alienate, sell, dispose of, or incumber in any manner any of the lands allotted to him for a period of twenty-five years from and after the passage and approval of this act, unless such restriction shall, prior to the expiration of such period, be removed by act of Congress; and for all quantum of Indian blood possessed by any member of said tribes shall be determined by the rolls of citizens of said tribes approved by the Secretary of the Interior. Provided, however, that such fool-blood Indians of any of said tribes may lease any lands other than homesteads for more than one year under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior; and in case of the inability of any full blood owner of a homestead, on account of infirmity or old age, to work or farm his homestead, the Secretary of the Interior upon proof of such inability may authorize the leasing of such homestead under such rules and regulations; provided, further, that conveyances heretofore made by members of any of the Five Civilized Tribes subsequent to the selection of allotment and subsequent to the removal of restrictions, where patents hereafter issued, shall not be deemed or held invalid solely because said conveyances were made prior to issuance and recording and delivery of patent or deed; but this shall not be held or construed as affecting the validity or invalidity of any such conveyance, except as hereinabove provided; and every deed executed before, or for the making of which a contract or agreement was entered into before the removal of restrictions be, and the same is hereby, declared void; provided, further, that all lands upon which restrictions are removed shall be subject to taxation and the other lands shall be exempt from taxation as long as the title remains in the original allottee."

The effect of this provision would be to continue the treaties in force so far as they relate to the alienation of the surplus lands of the mixed bloods. The treaty stipulations vary somewhat with respect to the various tribes. As to the Choctaws and Chickasaws, they provide that the surplus may be alienated one-third each in one, three and five years after the delivery of patent, while the Creeks and Cherokees may not alienate their surplus until five years after the issuance of patents.

The agreement reached today is a substantial victory for the Senate, in that most of the objections made to the House bill have been admitted by the conferees.

The Senate has won a notable victory in the matter of disposition of the mineral lands and a crowd of able lobbyists has been signally defeated.

Billy Gone the Coke Route.

City Marshal Mitchell has had in his custody—or rather in his paternal care—during the last few days one Billy Reha, who has been working on the Oklahoma Central railroad grade down below Stonewall. It appears Billy has been going up against coke so long and so hard, it has thrown him bug house. Uncle Lem tried throwing him in the cooler, then tried turning him loose, but without avail. Finally he turned Billy over to the federal authorities. The U. S. Commissioner adjudged him insane and he was taken to the Ardmore jail, thence to be transported to the asylum.

Public School Exhibit.

The public exhibit of the school children's work remained open during the day Saturday and many patrons and friends visited the building and inspected the superb written work. So Superintendent Hendrix authorizes the announcement that it will be open again during Monday, in order that everybody will have a chance to view the work.

Ardmore, I. T., April 7.—In the Sulphur election case United States Judge Townsend yesterday heard preliminary arguments involving the question of irregular mode in voting. In the first ward of Sulphur the residents voted for all candidates and the question was raised whether this could legally be done. It was alleged that the voters of the first ward changed the result of the other wards.

Judge Townsend held that he had no jurisdiction to interfere with the judges declaring the result of the election.

Final action is positively demanded on proposition of Oklahoma Central by morning of Tuesday, April 10, and a mass meeting is hereby called for that purpose Monday night, April 9th, at 8 o'clock, court house. This is of vital importance to Ada and the situation must be met.

STATEHOOD CONFERENCE ACTS WITH DELIBERATION

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the statehood bill are proceeding with the deliberation of men who are sensible that the time for action has not arrived. They have been meeting thrice a week, discussing the minor senate amendments cursorily and agreeing to some of them tentatively, while leaving the Foraker and Burrows amendments, which are the crux of the controversy, unconsidered. The conferees met again Friday and went through the same performance in a perfunctory way. Nothing has been done as to the court towns, that is, no agreement has been reached as to what towns shall be eliminated.

About the nearest approach to an agreement on any amendment of importance is that it has been virtually decided that the Warren amendment, which seeks to validate the titles of those who have claims to mineral land in Oklahoma, shall go out. The committee will perhaps not meet again until the latter part of next week, as Mr. Beveridge, who is at the head of the Senate conferees has gone to Indiana on a political mission.

The more complaisant mood of the house is believed to have resulted from the canvass that is being made in the senate as to the advisability of attaching the amended statehood bill to some one of the appropriation bills, preferably the sundry civil measure. If this should be done, and it is generally admitted it can be, there would be no way to deny the house an opportunity to vote on the naked proposition of admitting Oklahoma and Indian territory. The result of such a vote as that would be an overwhelming defeat for the Speaker, hence his increasing inclination to compromise, even if he has to accept the second Foraker amendment.

The hope of the friends of these two territories waxes. Some of them, in fact, are now confident that this congress will not adjourn without adding Oklahoma to the sisterhood of States. And this, it may be added, is the belief of some of the shrewdest observers in congress.

VARIEGATED ADVENTURES FOR THE U. S. OFFICERS

Friday and Friday night were busy times for the U. S. Marshall's force. In the afternoon Office Deputy Brents and Constable Morris made a reconnoitering expedition out on the grading line of the Oklahoma Central. From Stebbins camp they brought back three negroes, thirty gallons of Choctaw beer and three six-shooters—that is the negroes and pistols were brought in. Two are held on weapon charges and one for a liquor offense. Upon the arrival of the officers promiscuous was the throwing away of guns. One negro had a neat little Choctaw club house or canteen in operation in a tent and the odor of the nondescript beverage was insistent.

Also up on the M. K. & T. the officers, after searching most of the night, bagged one Pruitt on a charge of dealing in alcohol. But Deputy John Chapman had the romantic trip of the day. It seems the last grand jury indicted Mrs. Fay Chamber, accusing her of maintaining a nuisance in the form of a house of prostitution down on east Main. The officers had not located her until yesterday when they learned she had gone to Stonewall. So last night Chapman procured a hand car and thither pumped his way. He easily found the woman wanted and she cheerfully agreed to return with the officers on the rude rolling stock. Accordingly they pumped back to Ada in the night and the fair prisoner now languishes in the bastille in lieu of giving a $500 bond.

Rev. W. J. Eakins of Italy, Texas, will preach at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning and evening. A special invitation is extended to all, and especially members of the congregation, to attend both these services. 2t 13

AN URGENT SIDEWALK SUGGESTION.

The recent spell of mud naturally made one reflect on the blessings of sidewalks. In compliance with the city ordinance enacted last fall our property owners of pride and public spirit, almost to a man, constructed good, substantial walks along property on the leading streets affected. And the convenience and comfort of these improvements are invaluable during rainy days. But there are a few property owners whose attention certainly never was called to the new law. Why, there remains even at this late day a stretch of mud walk leading from the chief business corner of the town to another important business block, a walk composing part of the main pedestrian thoroughfare leading to the residence district.

Think of it! This conspicuous piece of civic dereliction right in the heart of a city boasting of four railroads, the city sanely ambitious of soon being the railroad center of the Southwest! Why at this stage of our metropolitan aspirations and prospects the News feels humiliated to have to agitate the building of little sidewalks; before many months this town is expected to reach the status that will demand such big things as the paving of Main street. Sidewalks are village necessities. Let us not grow up to the proportions of a real city without even the adjunct conveniences and embellishments of a village status.

That sidewalk should by all means be built before another rain, and there are a few others which need building nearly as badly. The News does not wish to revert to these little matters again.

The unusual amount of advertising in this number of the News has precluded the publication of some good items of local news.

BUSTER BROWN

Not only does dressing well make you feel good, but it pays. When you see a man wearing a coat that sags and trousers that just reach his shoe tops--cut short because they have been worn out at the bottom--you put him down for a dub. You would not give him a job, nor recommend him for a position. If you had him hired would you raise his salary? The prosperous man is always well dressed; dress well and you will prosper. If you are feeling purple-proud come in and try one of our swell, tony suits. Price $16.50. If the pocket-book is lean, we can make you look good for $12.50. Tasty, durable suits anywhere between $9.50 and $22.50. And now that April is here, perhaps you wish some shirts and lighter underwear. Its about time to change. We shall help you. Try taking a look in our show windows, too, for bright, proper neckties, ties you'll want so badly your tongue will hang out. Respectfully,

Alienation Clause Knocked Out.

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the Five Tribes bill have agreed on another report in lieu of that one which was virtually rejected by the Senate early this week. Most of the provisions to which the Senate objected have been eliminated or modified, and there has been no attempt to legislate in conference. For these reasons, it is believed, the report will be accepted by both houses.

The proposition in which there is perhaps the most widespread interest is that respecting the disposition of the mineral lands. On this the House conferees agreed to the Senate amendment, which forbids both the sale and the lease of the unleased mineral lands "until such time as may be otherwise provided."

As to the restrictions on allotments the conferees agreed to strike out that part of the Senate amendment removing at once the restrictions on the surplus lands of mixed bloods, and to keep in the bill this provision: "That nothing in this act contained shall be construed or held to authorize the leasing of such lands for oil, gas or other mineral without the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, and no such lease shall have any validity until so approved; that no full blood Indian of any of said tribes shall have power to alienate, sell, dispose of, or incur in any manner any of the lands allotted to him for a period of twenty-five years from and after the passage and approval of this act, unless such restriction shall, prior to the expiration of such period, be removed by act of Congress; and for all quantum of Indian blood possessed by any member of said tribes shall be determined by the rolls of citizens of said tribes approved by the Secretary of the Interior. Provided, however, that such fool-blood Indians of any of said tribes may lease any lands, other than homesteads for more than one year under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior; and in case of the inability of any full blood owner of a homestead, on account of infirmity or old age, to work or farm his homestead, the Secretary of the Interior up on proof of such inability may authorize the leasing of such homestead under such rules and regulations; provided, further, that conveyances heretofore made by members of any of the Five Civilized Tribes subsequent to the selection of allotment and subsequent to the removal of restrictions, where patents hereafter issued, shall not be deemed or held invalid solely because said conveyances were made prior to issuance and recording and delivery of patent or deed; but this shall not be held or construed as affecting the validity or invalidity of any such conveyance, except as hereinabove provided; and every deed executed before, or for the making of which a contract or agreement was entered into before the removal of restrictions be, and the same is hereby, declared void; provided, further, that all lands upon which restrictions are removed shall be subject to taxation and the other lands shall be exempt from taxation as long as the title remains in the original allottee."

The effect of this provision would be to continue the treaties in force so far as they relate to the alienation of the surplus lands of the mixed bloods. The treaty stipulations vary somewhat with respect to the various tribes. As to the Choctaws and Chickasaws, they provide that the surplus may be alienated one-third each in one, three and five years after the delivery of patent, while the Creeks and Cherokees may not alienate their surplus until five years after the issuance of patents. The agreement reached today is a substantial victory for the Senate, in that most of the objections made to the House bill have been admitted by the conferees. The Senate has won a notable victory in the matter of disposition of the mineral lands and a crowd of able lobbyists has been signally defeated.

Billy Gone the Coke Route.

City Marshal Mitchell has had in his custody—or rather in his paternal care—during the last few days one Billy Reha, who has been working on the Oklahoma Central railroad grade down below Stonewall. It appears Billy has been going up against coke so long and so hard, it has thrown him bug house. Uncle Sam tried throwing him in the cooler, then tried turning him loose, but without avail. Finally he turned Billy over to the federal authorities. The U. S. Commissioner adjudged him insane and he was taken to the Ardmore jail, thence to be transported to the asylum.

Public School Exhibit.

The public exhibit of the school children's work remained open during the day Saturday and many patrons and friends visited the building and inspected the superb written work. However, there were not nearly so many visitors as on Friday, due largely to the fact that the announcement inadvertently omitted to state that the exhibit would be open another day.

So Superintendent Hendrix authorizes the announcement that it will be open again during Monday, in order that everybody will have a chance to view the work.

Ardmore, I. T., April 7.—In the Sulphur election case United States Judge Townsend yesterday heard preliminary arguments involving the question of irregular mode in voting. In the first ward of Sulphur the residents voted for all candidates and the question was raised whether this could legally be done. It was alleged that the voters of the first ward changed the result of the other wards.

Judge Townsend held that he had no jurisdiction to interfere with the judges declaring the result of the election.

STATEHOOD CONFERENCE ACTS WITH DELIBERATION

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the statehood bill are proceeding with the deliberation of men who are sensible that the time for action has not arrived. They have been meeting thrice a week, discussing the minor senate amendments cursorily and agreeing to some of them tentatively, while leaving the Foraker and Burrows amendments, which are the crux of the controversy, unconsidered. The conferees met again Friday and went through the same performance in a perfunctory way. Nothing has been done as to the court towns, that is, no agreement has been reached as to what towns shall be eliminated.

About the nearest approach to an agreement on any amendment of importance is that it has been virtually decided that the Warren amendment, which seeks to validate the titles of those who have claims to mineral land in Oklahoma, shall go out. The committee will perhaps not meet again until the latter part of next week, as Mr. Beveridge, who is at the head of the Senate conferees has gone to Indiana on a political mission.

The more complaisant mood of the house is believed to have resulted from the canvass that is being made in the senate as to the advisability of attaching the amended statehood bill to some one of the appropriation bills, preferably the sundry civil measure. If this should be done, and it is generally admitted it can be, there would be no way to deny the house an opportunity to vote on the naked proposition of admitting Oklahoma and Indian territory. The result of such a vote as that would be an overwhelming defeat for the Speaker, hence his increasing inclination to compromise, even if he has to accept the second Foraker amendment.

The hope of the friends of these two territories waxes. Some of them, in fact, are now confident that this congress will not adjourn without adding Oklahoma to the sisterhood of States. And this, it may be added, is the belief of some of the shrewdest observers in congress.

VARIEGATED ADVENTURES FOR THE U. S. OFFICERS

Friday and Friday night were busy times for the U. S. Marshal's force. In the afternoon Office Deputy Brents and Constable Morris made a reconnoitering expedition out on the grading line of the Oklahoma Central. From Stebbins camp they brought back three negroes, thirty gallons of Choctaw beer and three sixshooters—that is the negroes and pistols were brought in. Two are held on weapon charges and one for a liquor offense. Upon the arrival of the officers promiscuous was the throwing away of guns. One negro had a neat little Choctaw club house or canteen in operation in a tent and the odor of the nondescript beverage was insistent.

Also up on the M. K. & T. the officers, after searching most of the night, bagged one Pruitt on a charge of dealing in alcohol. But Deputy John Chapman had the romantic trip of the day. It seems the last grand jury indicted Mrs. Fay Chamber, accusing her of maintaining a nuisance in the form of a house of prostitution down on east Main. The officers had not located her until yesterday when they learned she had gone to Stonewall. So last night Chapman procured a hand car and thither pumped his way. He easily found the woman wanted and she cheerfully agreed to return with the officers on the rude rolling stock. Accordingly they pumped back to Ada in the night and the fair prisoner now languishes in the bastille in lieu of giving a $500 bond.

Rev. W. J. Eakins of Italy, Texas, will preach at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning and evening. A special invitation is extended to all, and especially members of the congregation, to attend both these services.

AN URGENT SIDEWALK SUGGESTION.

The recent spell of mud naturally made one reflect on the blessings of sidewalks. In compliance with the city ordinance enacted last fall our property owners of pride and public spirit, almost to a man, constructed good, substantial walks along property on the leading streets affected. And the convenience and comfort of these improvements are invaluable during rainy days. But there are a few property owners whose attention certainly never was called to the new law. Why, there remains even at this late day a stretch of mud walk leading from the chief business corner of the town to another important business block, a walk composing part of the main pedestrian thoroughfare leading to the residence district.

Think of it! This conspicuous piece of civic dereliction right in the heart of a city boasting of four railroads, the city sanely ambitious of soon being the railroad center of the Southwest! Why at this stage of our metropolitan aspirations and prospects the News feels humiliated to have to agitate the building of little sidewalks; before many months this town is expected to reach the status that will demand such big things as the paving of Main street. Sidewalks are village necessities. Let us not grow up to the proportions of a real city without even the adjunct conveniences and embellishments of a village status.

That sidewalk should by all means be built before another rain, and there are a few others which need building nearly as badly. The News does not wish to revert to these little matters again.

The unusual amount of advertising in this number of the News has precluded the publication of some good items of local news.

Not only does dressing well make you feel good, but it pays. When you see a man wearing a coat that sags and trousers that just reach his shoe tops--cut short because they have been worn out at the bottom--you put him down for a dub. You would not give him a job, nor recommend him for a position. If you had him hired would you raise his salary? The prosperous man is always well dressed; dress well and you will prosper. If you are feeling purple-proud come in and try one of our swell, tony suits. Price $16.50. If the pocket-book is lean, we can make you look good for $12.50. Alienation Clause Knocked Out.

Washington, April 7.—The conferees on the Five Tribes bill have agreed on another report in lieu of that one which was virtually rejected by the Senate early this week. Most of the provisions to which the Senate objected have been eliminated or modified, and there has been no attempt to legislate in conference. For these reasons, it is believed, the report will be accepted by both houses.

The proposition in which there is perhaps the most widespread interest is that respecting the disposition of the mineral lands. On this the House conferees agreed to the Senate amendment, which forbids both the sale and the lease of the unleased mineral lands "until such time as may be otherwise provided."

As to the restrictions on allotments the conferees agreed to strike out that part of the Senate amendment removing at once the restrictions on the surplus lands of mixed bloods, and to keep in the bill this provision "That nothing in this act contained shall be construed or held to authorize the leasing of such lands for oil, gas or other mineral without the approval of the Secretary of the Interior, and no such lease shall have any validity until so approved; that no full blood Indian of any of said tribes shall have power to alienate, sell, dispose of, or incur in any manner any of the lands allotted to him for a period of twenty-five years from and after the passage and approval of this act, unless such restriction shall, prior to the expiration of such period, be removed by act of Congress; and for all quantum of Indian blood possessed by any member of said tribes shall be determined by the rolls of citizens of said tribes approved by the Secretary of the Interior. Provided, however, that such fool-blood Indians of any of said tribes may lease any lands, other than homesteads for more than one year under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior; and in case of the inability of any full blood owner of a homestead, on account of infirmity or old age, to work or farm his homestead, the Secretary of the Interior up on proof of such inability may authorize the leasing of such homestead under such rules and regulations; provided, further, that conveyances heretofore made by members of any of the Five Civilized Tribes subsequent to the selection of allotment and subsequent to the removal of restrictions, where patents hereafter issue, shall not be deemed or held invalid solely because said conveyances were made prior to issuance and recording and delivery of patent or deed; but this shall not be held or construed as affecting the validity or invalidity of any such conveyance, except as hereinabove provided; and every deed executed before, or for the making of which a contract or agreement was entered into before the removal of restrictions be, and the same is hereby, declared void; provided, further, that all lands upon which restrictions are removed shall be subject to taxation and the other lands shall be exempt from taxation as long as the title remains in the original allottee."

The effect of this provision would be to continue the treaties in force so far as they relate to the alienation of the surplus lands of the mixed bloods. The treaty stipulations vary somewhat with respect to the various tribes. As to the Choctaws and Chickasaws, they provide that the surplus may be alienated one-third each in one, three and five years after the delivery of patent, while the Creeks and Cherokees may not alienate their surplus until five years after the issuance of patents. The agreement reached today is a substantial victory for the Senate, in that most of the objections made to the House bill have been admitted by the conferees. The Senate has won a notable victory in the matter of disposition of the mineral lands and a crowd of able lobbyists has been signally defeated.

Billy, Gone the Coke Route.

City Marshal Mitchell has had in his custody—or rather in his paternal care—during the last few days one Billy Reha, who has been working on the Oklahoma Central railroad, grade down below Stonewall. It appears Billy has been going up against coke so long and so hard, it has thrown him out of his house. Uncle Lem tried throwing him in the cooler, then tried turning him loose, but without avail. Finally he turned Billy over to the federal authorities. The U. S. Commissioner adjudged him insane and he was taken to the Ardmore jail, thence to be transported to the asylum.

Public School Exhibit.
The public exhibit of the school children's work remained open during the day Saturday and many patrons and friends visited the building and inspected the superb written work. However, there were not nearly so many visitors as on Friday, due largely to the fact that the announcement inadvertently omitted to state that the exhibit would be open another day.

So Superintendent Hendrix authorizes the announcement that it will be open again during Monday, in order that everybody will have a chance to view the work.
